

Report of the Fairfax County Democratic Committee (FCDC) Task Force on Caucuses and the Composition of Steering

Summary of Recommended Changes

The following bylaws changes are recommended by the Task Force. In summary, these changes:

- Define a caucus as a group representing a core or unrepresented constituency, not organized around a specific issue or cause where each member of the caucus is entitled to their own vote;
- Affirm that both voting and associate members of FCDC can be members of caucuses;
- Require that caucuses and standing committees must have at least six meetings/events and members from at least four different districts over 12 months to be considered active;
- Add caucus chairs to the Steering Committee, and further require that standing committees and caucuses be active to have a representative on Steering;
- Create a process for caucus and standing committee formation that requires a single Steering vote and a single General meeting vote, rather than at two subsequent General meetings and defining other requirements prior to creation;
- Redefine the following existing standing committees as caucuses: 50+, Black Caucus, Labor, LGBTQA+, Veterans and Military Families, and Women's Affairs; and
- Make various editorial changes to apply similar treatment to caucuses as standing committees.

Over the course of the five meetings of the Task Force, considerable discussion was made on the recommended bylaws revisions proposed in this document. The main purpose of the changes is to create a framework for the creation and operation of caucuses within FCDC.

Article VII of the FCDC Bylaws was substantially reorganized to separate clauses specific to standing committees and caucuses, and to subsequently provide common details about reorganization, creation, and requirements to be considered active.

While there was discussion about potentially making more substantial changes to the composition of the Steering Committee, the resulting majority decision was to make the limited changes of adding the chairs of caucuses and requiring both standing committees and caucuses be active to retain their vote on Steering. A minority of the task force feels that the Steering Committee is too large, but the size of Steering has not created substantial operational problems and there is a concern that removing representation from Steering may make the overall proposal unacceptable as it would contradict our democratic principle of inclusion.

Our recommendation also reclassifies the 50+, Black Caucus, Labor, LGBTQA+, Veterans and Military Families, and Women's Rights standing committees to become caucuses. The omission of Youth Affairs was intentional, leaving the Fairfax Young Democrats as the primary member organization and leaving Youth Affairs to highlight youth issues and support the increased participation of younger people in Committee activities.

Not all parts of this proposal were unanimously agreed to, but we believe collectively they provide a workable basis for the operation and establishment of caucuses.

Background

At the July 2020 FCDC General Meeting, a recommendation to create caucuses was referred by the County Committee to a task force to be created by the County Chair. As a result, the County Chair formed a “Task Force on Caucuses and the Composition of Steering” with the limited purpose of:

- Reviewing the proposed bylaws changes referred to the task force; and
- Recommending changes to the FCDC Bylaws related to the addition of Caucuses and the Composition of Steering, including:
 - The definition of an FCDC Caucus, if it differs from Standing Committees
 - The process by which a Caucus is created and disbanded
 - The composition of who is a member of an FCDC Caucus
 - Whether some existing FCDC Standing Committees should be reclassified as Caucuses
 - How the Composition of the FCDC Steering Committee should change as a result of the creation of Caucuses
 - How these changes affect the Diversity and Outreach Standing Committees

Proposed Bylaws Changes
